Eight Hours or Nothing.

"Papa," said the daughter of a large employer of labor, "are you in favor of the eight-hour system?"
"Well, daughter," he answered, "under certain circumstances I am."
"Oh I'm so glad!" she exclaimed rapturously.
"Why, my dear, why are you so interested?"
"Because, papa, George has been only staying four hours every evening, and he told me last night if you favored the eight-hour system he needn't go home nearly so early. You dear old papa, I'm so glad you are in favor of it," and she threw her soft white arms about his neck and choked off all explanations.—(Washington Critic.)

War Prices in the South.

A few days ago a party of gentlemen were discussing high prices in the South during the latter part of the civil war.
"I paid $30 a yard for a suit of gray cotton jeans," said the first speaker, "and the suit of clothes cost me $300 after being cut and made."
"The biggest trade I made during the war," said No. 2, "was $30 for a spool of cotton thread."
"And I," said No. 3, "paid $15 for a shave."

"How could a man carry enough change in his pocket to buy anything?" I ventured to ask.
"They stuffed it in their hats, boots and pockets, or most anywhere it would stick," replied No. 1.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with head ache, you are nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. See up, but not with stimulants, such as medicines, or others, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and leaves you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start heart by action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Kieckhefer's Bitters and only 50 cents a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co's Drug Store.

No Session of the Senate.

Referring to the lack of a quorum in the State Senate yesterday, the Carson Tribune says: We do not propose to take our State Senators to task for their absence for the reason that they should know their own business better than this paper can dictate, but we take the liberty of stating that in the latter days of the Legislature it is not safe for Senators to start for San Francisco on Friday with the expectation of arriving at the Capitol of Nevada in time to take their seats in the Senate or Assembly. Legislators have no more control of the weather than ordinary mortals, and the clock of the weather is as oblivious of law-makers as of ordinary individuals.

McCalmonts vs Sutor Tunnel.

The suit of the McCalmont Brothers of London, England, to foreclose a mortgage for something over $1,000,000, held by them on the property of the Sutor Tunnel Company, has been argued before Judge Sabin in the U. S. Court at Carson. The case has been taken under advisement and counsel for the defendants given 20 days in which to file briefs.

TUESDAY.....FEBRUARY 15, 1887

Envious eyes in Carson are now watching Reno. All kinds of rumors are in the air. Within the past few days there has been a hurrying to and fro; the din of battle is heard in the distance; a fear of death is pictured in the face; the Carson citizen is alarmed; no prison bill has been introduced, no move made, but Carson is afraid she will lose the prison. In a general way let us understand why. The prison is an expensive institution. It is shut in by walls of stone. There being no soil and no irrigation water, there can be carried on there no agriculture; there being no water power, all efforts at manufacture but add additional cost to the State; there being no demand for the stone, the quarry is a failure; the shoe-shop is a failure; in a financial sense the whole institution is a failure. No wonder the average Carson citizen is worried and alarmed at such a showing. There are other places in Nevada where there is plenty of agricultural lands, abundant water power to run all kinds of machinery for manufacture, where the prison might be maintained with little or no expense to the State. Fifteen years ago the State of Nevada through its Representatives resolved that in the interest of the tax payers of the State, there should be a change of location for the prison. The array of facts and figures presented in the early seventies has stared the people in the face ever since. From that day to this there has been no other argument but that in its favor. No other argument can now be presented, the conclusion is inevitable that the prison location should be changed. That it will be changed is but a question of time; this every man admits. The only stumbling block now in its way is the lobbyist. If the estimates made be correct that the prison, located elsewhere, could be made self-supporting or nearly so, then $40,000 annually is wasted; if in the valley of the Truckee with its rich fields and its undiminished water power offer the inducements for this institution that is claimed, the duty of the Legislature is so plain that he who runs may read.

An editorial in the Globe Democrat of St. Louis traces the career of General Bismarck, the French Secretary of War, calls him the Bismarck of France, and declares that he has since Sedan copied the plan marked out by Bismarck, which culminated in a united Germany, a perfectly equipped army, and a prestige for his country which left Germany after the war with France where Great Britain was after Waterloo. He has shown his dashing courage in the field; he has perfectly organized the army; he has caused it, officers as well as men, to be thoroughly drilled and kept in that condition; he has secured field artillery superior to that of Germany, and is fast supplying the most effective small arms; he has had a thorough overhauling of the commissariat so that the clothing and food are perfect; and for years he has insisted that every soldier should carry about him a map of France as it was before the two provinces were wrested from her by the uncontrollable power of Germany.

The Berlin Post says that in reply to an inquiry by deputy Eynern in the Landtag as to whether war was probable, Bismarck said: "You know quite as much as I do. We live in a state of peace but look at the French preparations, at building barracks, the positions of Gen. Boulanger, the constant outcry of the French patriotic league during 16 years, then consider what we have to fear from France."

The Post recommends Germany who desire to know the position of the French frontier to study the map prepared at Wurtemberg by Major Troltsch which shows that between Paris and the eastern frontier, troops of the line combined with the present reserves form an effective force of 600,000 which can be tripled in a few days.

TO-DAY'S NEWS.

German Patrols Along the French Border.

MANNING'S RESIGNATION

The New York Strikers out of Employment.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR AFFAIRS

Large Salaries Paid by a Boston Base-Ball Club.

Knights of Labor Matters.

CHICAGO, February 15. The statement is in circulation here that District Assembly K, of L. in Chicago has received orders from General Master Workman Powderly within the past three days, directing that no boycott be attempted without the sanction of the General Executive Board of Philadelphia. Strenuous efforts were made yesterday to obtain a confirmation of the rumor, but the Knights approached on the subject, either denied the existence of the alleged order, or were extremely reticent. It is stated, however, on fair authority, that the report had its origin in a letter from Powderly, calling attention to a clause in the Knights' constitution declaring in effect, that District Assemblies may inaugurate boycotts within their respective jurisdictions, but for any extension they must apply to the General Board. The letter from Powderly is said to have intimated that any future infractions of this law by the Chicago District would not be tolerated. It is an open secret here that since the Socialists captured a majority of the Chicago District, the offices of the General Board have been almost ignored so far as the city is concerned.

The Strikers Rejected.

NEW YORK, February 14. Positive orders to their dock agents from many of the railroad companies prohibited any of the strikers being taken back under any circumstances. Agent Bode of the Pennsylvania road says that he has refused the application of a deputation from their old men for their reinstatement. "I will stand by those who have stood by me," he said. "Not one of our present hands who does good work will be discharged." Agent Pepper of the Jersey Southern road also has positive orders to take back no strikers. But little inconvenience, he says, has been caused his company by the strike. At the New Jersey Central pier, Lehigh Valley railroad and the Anchor Line pier, many of the old hands are working among the Italians, and freight is being moved rapidly. Gangs of strikers are going about from pier to pier in search of work.

An Expression Asked For.

MADISON, February 15. The following was issued yesterday: NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS G.A.R. }
MADISON Wis. Feb. 14, 1887.
Circular }

No 8. In view of the recent veto of the dependent pension bill, and of the very great importance of that measure to many of our disabled comrades who need and are justly entitled to help, it is recommended that posts and comrades everywhere, by resolutions and letters, immediately inform members of Congress, who are entitled to and will gladly receive the expressions of opinion, of their approval or disapproval of the principles involved in the vetoed bill. Comrades are requested to move at once without waiting for printed circulars. By command of
LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,
Commander-in-Chief.
E. B. GRAY, Adjutant General.

Base Ballists in Demand.

POUGHKEEPSIE, February 15. Michael Kelly, the right-fielder of the Chicago base-ball club was released from that organization yesterday by the payment by the Boston club of $10,000. Kelly then signed for the season with the Boston, who agree to give him $2,000 for his services for the coming season, and to give him $3,000 for his photograph to place in the club's album, making his compensation for the season, $5,000. Kelly received $2,250 from the Chicago club last year.

Secretary Manning Resigns.

WASHINGTON, February 14. Secretary Manning called at the White House this afternoon and placed his resignation in the hands of the President, to take effect on the appointment and qualification of his successor. This action is taken in order to allow Manning to accept the Presidency of the Western National Bank of the city of New York. His letter of resignation will not be made public for some days. It is stated at the White House that no immediate appointment will be made to the office, and Manning will continue to act as Secretary for several weeks. Secretary Manning left Washington this afternoon for Albany. He expects to return to Washington Friday or Saturday.

ternoon for Albany. He expects to return to Washington Friday or Saturday.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

Cable-Road Changes.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 14. The statements made recently that Senator Fair had purchased the City Railroad horse car line, which runs along Mission street, are positively denied. It is stated, however, to-night that the Market-street Cable Company of this city, has acquired 60 per cent. of the stock of the City Railroad Company. This new branch will be converted into a cable road, and thus become part of the Market street system. It is also stated that the Geary street cable road is about to be transferred to the Southern Pacific people. The absorption will be followed by the construction of a cable line along Point Lobos avenue, from First avenue to the Cliff House.

Charged With Intent to Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 14. Complaint has been made in the Police Court by Captain Lees of the detective force against Dr. James Hodges, who exploded the bomb at the Grand Opera House last Wednesday evening. In the complaint Hodges is accused of having made an assault with intent to commit murder upon seven persons who sat near him in the Opera House gallery.

More Than They Wanted.

MERCED, Cal., February 14. The rain for the past 24 hours has been unusually steady, and heavy streams are overflowing part of the valley, covering great breadths of land planted to wheat. The rain ceased falling about an hour this afternoon, though appearances indicate that the storm is not over.

A Broken Levee.

GRIMES, Cal., February 14. The levee broke two miles below here, at Brownings, a large column of water pouring through the aperture, which is nearly 50 feet wide. Thousands of acres will be inundated. Another break occurred just opposite, and is now over 300 feet wide.

Killed by a Snow-Slide.

VISALIA, Cal., February 14. News has been received from the Mineral King mining district that George Smith and two others were carried down the mountain by snow on Thursday last, and Smith was killed.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

Along the Border.

PARIS, February 15. The Journal Des Debats has telegrams from Nancy, saying that numerous German patrols have been stationed along the frontier for the purpose it is supposed, of arresting deserters whose numbers have rapidly increased since the war rumors have been in circulation. Dispatches also say that the French Government has issued an order directing that if any patrol should by accident enter France only a formal notice shall be taken of such violation of French territory, leaving the matter to be subsequently made the subject of a diplomatic protest.

The British Parliament.

LONDON, February 15. The House of Commons last evening resumed debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech. An amendment offered by Mr. Esslemont (Liberal) in favor of an inquiry into the condition of farm laborers in Scotland, was rejected by a vote of 198 to 96. An amendment offered by Mr. Campbell in favor of a local government in Scotland and other parts of the kingdom, was withdrawn after a short discussion.

The Seal Fisheries.

GODBOUT, Quebec, February 15. The last mail from Blanc Sablon arrived at Molser river Friday. It reports that the winter has been very severe only along the Labrador coast. The seal net fishing last fall was moderately fair, about 2,000 seals being captured at different stations there. At Point Desmonts seal hunting was a complete failure owing to the strong winds and unusual quantity of ice.

Will Ask a Credit.

VIENNA, February 15. The Council of ministers has decided that the Delegation shall meet on March 1st, when the government will ask a credit of 25,000,000 florins to complete the military supplies; also an extra credit, not exceeding the former which will only be utilized if the political situation continues threatening.

A Sad Delay.

Joseph Scott of Halleck is snow-bound, on his way to San Francisco to attend the funeral of the late Wm. Willis, who has been his partner in the cattle business for many years. The firm consisted of Mr. Willis, Mr. Scott and Mr. Boyd, with Mr. Scott as manager. It has been one of the most successful of all the heavy enterprises in that line in the Western country.

Snow Shovelers.

About 60 snow shovelers were taken from here last evening to help dig out a snow-plow and five engines which are blocked below Cisco.

A BOOMING BUSINESS.

Ore Coming in in Large Quantities and Working Well.

As soon as five cars of coke arrive the new water jacket smelter at the Reduction Works will be started up and $20,000 or $30,000 that the company has stacked up in lead ores will be ready for the market. It is considered best to mix coke with the charcoal burned here as the latter is a little soft as well as scarce. A new wire cable is on the road also and will be put up as soon as possible. It is needed to keep everything running steady including the dynamo for the electric lights. The smelting company feels rather pleased to see the storm for it will give them a chance to catch up a little on ore so they can turn around. They run out four bars yesterday and are getting everything out of the ore that is possible. The tailings are said to assay less than $1 80 to the ton. Mr. Howell says the railroad company is doing its best to divert ores from Utah that have been going to Denver and Salt Lake and also from Northern California as well as from Nevada and Placer counties. There is no doubt but that larger works will be built very soon and additions made to accommodate all customers. Some very fine ores are being brought here from Lapanta by Mr. Yerington and he is well satisfied with the results. Mr. Carey has been laid up for a few days but is better and at his post again. His complaint is the same that catches all the great men lately, i. e. rheumatism. The machinery seems to enjoy the storm inside and everything is running as smoothly as a sewing machine in a lady's work room.

PERSONALS.

Sensors Foley and Thoma returned last evening from Eureka.

Senator and Mrs. Stewart arrived from Carson last evening and left for the east this morning.

Mrs. James H. Kinkead who has been visiting in Virginia City for the past week returned last evening.

C. Chenoweth of Winnemucca has purchased the Greely property and expects to move here in the near future.

Thomas Lee of Quincy, who was recently married at Oroville, Cal., is at the Depot hotel with his bride waiting for the storm to cease so they can get home.

Be comforted, oh ye sufferers, thy pains shall vanish by the magic power of St. Jacobs Oil.

The Pioneer Grape Grower.

The boom in California lands is gradually creeping up the hill and Nevada and Placer counties are feeling the good effects very materially. The foothill country owes more of this to J. M. Graham former division engineer on the railroad than to any other man. He took a piece of common land half a mile from Colfax and set out several acres of grapes. He was laughed at of course and a great many smart men explained just why his experiment would be a failure. It was not a failure, however and to-day land which could not be sold then for $2 readily brings from $20 to $50 and grapes grown within a mile of Colfax have taken a premium at several successive fairs.

The disfiguring eruptions on the face, the swollen eye, the painful complexion, indicate that there is something wrong going on within. Expel the lurking foe to health. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a sure remedy for that purpose.

Will Ring the Bell.

The impassable condition of the streets has rendered necessary the closing of the Reno public schools. Notice of the reopening will be given by a ringing of the bell at 8 o'clock on the morning of the resumption.

GROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Smith's Cure. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Lost Some Cattle.

G. W. Crum of Battle Mountain informed the GAZETTE last week that he had up to the first of February lost over a hundred head of cows. Others in the same vicinity had smaller losses.

DAYTON, NEVADA, FEBRUARY 5, 1887. This is to certify that last season we used the Climax Stackers in putting up 1500 tons of hay, mostly blue joint; that it did its work well, and in my estimation is not equalled by any stacker or hay-lifting appliance on this coast. Circulars on Application.

Read F. B. Harper's 50-cent ad. in to-day's paper. He gives banjo lessons.

No objectional features about Red Star Cough Cure. Pleasant, safe sure. 25 cents.

On account of the bad weather the school at Browns has been closed until the 14th of March.

The auction sale of Howard & O'Neill's stock of liquors and saloon fixtures was concluded yesterday.

A private telegram from Winnemucca says there are but two inches of snow at that place, and that is melting very rapidly.

Those taking their meals at the Palace Restaurant, carry that comfortable self-satisfied look, which betokens well cooked food of the best quality.

Instead of ruining your shoes in the snow, go to Thomas Barnett's for a pair of his water-proof over-shoes which will keep your feet both dry and warm.

Evidently anticipating the present storm, E. C. Leadbetter had his store well filled with just the kind of groceries wanted. Sample his genuine Mocha coffee.

John Sunderland is always prepared for any kind of weather, for his variety of head and foot wear is so extensive that you can always get just what you want.

All kinds of text books used in both the University and public schools can be found at C. J. Brookins' variety store, as well as all kinds of school supplies.

All kinds of breakfast meal, the finest hams and bacon and all kinds of fresh vegetables at M. T. Barnett's Commercial Row grocery store. He also has Nevada apples and new cider.

No matter how deep the snow may fall, Coffin & Larcombe will see that your orders for their groceries are promptly filled. Try their "Our Taste" hams and boneless Chicago bacon.

The storm in no way interferes with J. Frazer's meat trade, for people must eat, and they seem to know just where to go for the best. Try a cake of his boneless cooked corned beef, and you will never use any other.

THE STORM AND THE TRAINS

A Heavy Blockade and No Through Trains.

The snow continued to fall rapidly until about noon to-day. It attained a depth of 22 inches. The overland arrived from the East last evening about an hour late, and doubled back this morning, leaving one sleeper and 114 passengers here to get across the Sierras as soon as the blockade is raised. The main difficulty on the Sierras is between Cisco and Blue Canyon, where five engines and a snow-plow are snowed in, not being able to get either way.

The west-bound overland left at 2 o'clock for the west behind a snow-plow and three engines. The plow came down and went to Wadsworth where it found about a foot of snow. The train that left here Sunday night is at Cisco, and the east-bound train due here yesterday morning is at Colfax.

The Virginia & Truckee held their passenger train until a snow-plow came down to clear the track. The noon freight was an hour late and went back behind time. No one can tell when trains will be running regularly again.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co. drug store as their giving away to their customers of a money free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free large bottle $1. Every bottle warranted.

The Only Perfect Remedy

For habitual constipation, dyspepsia and kindred ills, is the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It strengthens as well as cleanses the system, it is easily taken and perfectly harmless. Large bottles for sale by Wm. Pinniger, Reno, Nevada.

Entertainment Postponed.

On account of the snow blockade, Major Hendershott is unable to arrive here to-night, consequently the entertainment advertised for this evening and to-morrow night will be postponed. Due notice will be given as soon as it is learned when the Major can be here, and everything will go in accordance with the published programme.

A Reprehensible Practice.

Unless the foolish habit of snow-balling people on the streets is stopped, somebody is liable to get hurt. Yesterday Mr. Mulcahy's little boy had an eye nearly knocked out by a fellow not possessed of half of the sense of the injured child.

Resumed Practice.

Dr. W. D. Wagner has so far recovered from his protracted illness as to be able to resume his profession as a dentist at his old rooms in the Sunderland building.

A JOURNEY TO MEXICO.

How the Land of the Aztecs Impressed an American.

[LEROY B. BROWN.]

On entering a strange city I always visit its leading churches. The Mexican Cathedral is said to be the largest church edifice in the New World. There I saw a motley people, rich and poor, young and old, men and women, European and Creole, Indian and negro, Mestizo and Zambo, were together kneeling on the stone floor in devout worship. I observed that confession in Mexican churches is not the exclusively private performance that is elsewhere, the audience boxes being open and unvelled. Rare and costly paintings, some of which are reputed to be Murillos, adorn the walls of the cathedral, and its numerous chapels contain beautiful services of solid silver. Beneath the floor are the tombs of bishops and priests, and in a niche in one of the walls is the coffin which contains the bones of Iturbide, the Emperor. An Aztec temple, or teocalli, formerly occupied the site of the cathedral, and the famous calendar stone, the sacrificial stone, and many idols may be seen in the national museum hard by. This museum is rapidly growing in importance because of the Mexican law which prohibits the exportation of rare and valuable, historical and archaeological specimens—a law which it would be well to adopt in our own country. The calendar stone, which is 12 feet in diameter, weighs 25 tons. On the sacrificial stone it has been estimated that 60,000 human beings perished.

In company with the Rev. Chas. W. Drees, whom I knew in 1870 as a student in the Ohio Wesleyan University, and whom the Methodist world knows as a devoted and successful missionary in Mexico, I visited the church-yard of San Fernando, which contains not only the ashes of the unfortunate Generals Meza and Miramon, who were shot with the Emperor Maximilian at Queretaro, on that memorable 19th day of June, 1867, but also the tomb of Juarez, who, as acting President of the Republic, had ordered the execution of the Austrian Archduke and his two most devoted Mexican officers.

All in all, Juarez was the greatest man Mexico has produced. His biography is more interesting than a romance, and his career was one of the most remarkable. Of humble origin, his parents being Indians in straitened circumstances, an orphan at a tender age, unable to speak Spanish until after he reached his 12th birthday, but filled with the divine hunger for knowledge, and the purest patriotism, he finally became the "savior of his country." Having been graduated with honors at the college of Oajaca, he was a professor in his alma mater at the age of 21. At 25 he was Chief Judge of the republic, at 40 he was the Governor of his native State, and in 1861 he was elected President of Mexico. In 1863 he was driven from the Mexican Capital by Maximilian, but in 1867, after overthrowing the empire, he returned, and was again re-elected President, which office he filled until his death in 1872. The great reform which Juarez advocated as lawyer, Judge and President, and with his name will be forever connected, was the separation of church and State. Through his leadership this reform was accomplished in Mexico, and in honor of his memory, a beautiful monument has been constructed over his grave. This was the most beautiful, as well as the most interesting monument that I saw in Mexico. On the stone sepulcher of Juarez is a recumbent marble statue of this greatest of Mexican statesmen, the massive head resting on the right arm of Liberty, represented by a splendid female figure, also in marble, and in sitting-reclining posture. The form and expression of the statue of Juarez remind one of the race of Grecian heroes. The square-shaped head, the broad, beardless face, the prominent cheeks, bear unmistakable evidence of Indian origin. The face of Liberty is perfect in its beauty, and it wears a mingled expression of pride and grief—pride in that she gave to Mexico such a noble son; grief that her son has ceased to live among men. Let us hope that this man is not the last of his race who will live to bless mankind.

On the last Sunday of July, 1886, I heard the Rev. Mr. Butler preach an orthodox Methodist sermon in the City of Mexico. It did me great good to hear such a sermon in such a place. One who travels in distant lands always rejoices to hear his mother tongue, but it is a double pleasure to him who is far from home, and among people who speak a foreign language, to hear his own faith expounded in words he understands. Brother Drees assisted in the service and after the benediction was pronounced, he introduced me to several of the congregation, including Mrs. Drees and Miss Mary Lloyd, both of whom are engaged in the noble employment of teaching in mission schools. The Methodist church is doing great work for the Mexican people. In addition to the religious and moral instruction given by the missionaries and teachers sent out by the church, the secular knowledge obtained by the Mexican children in the mission day-schools is very valuable. Besides all this is the beneficial influence of missionary work on the habits, customs and conduct of the people. Wherever the Christian missionary has gone, the fruits of his labors are manifest. The certain advancement which the Republic of Mexico is making, is in no small degree due to the influence of missionary effort. This is conceded by the government in Mexico, which everywhere provides for the protection of missionaries.

A fortnight may easily and profitably be spent by the traveler in visiting Mexico City and its suburbs. The high altitude, however, does not admit of as much sight-seeing in a single day as is possible in New York or London. In the city I visited the museum, the President's palace, the splendid park called the Alameda, Alvarado's Leap, and other places noted by Prescott. I also saw the Noche-triste tree under which Cortez is said to have sat and wept over his misfortunes, the night the Spaniards evacuated the city. The tree is a gnarled old cedar, ten feet in diameter at the base and about 40 feet high. It is estimated to be 1,000 years old. Judging from its appearance it has not long to live.

Chapultepec is the most interesting suburb of Mexico. Here are the summer palace of the President and the Mexican Military Academy. The view from Chapultepec is one of great beauty, and the grounds contain a magnificent grove, consisting chiefly of cedars draped with Spanish moss. These trees are not so fine as the live-oaks I saw on the grounds of the New Orleans Exposition, but in a region such as the Valley of Mexico, which is almost destitute of trees, a grove is surpassingly delightful to behold.

The Greatest Study of Mankind

Is Man. The greatest study of mankind is man, and who are his wondrous frame doth scan. Ponder and devise to cure an ill, Whether by device, fruit or pill. An equal prize is set and we baste, The inventor of a cathartic of delicious taste. To do him honor. Who remembers not how the distressed mother, Her child's entreaties tried to smother, 'Till she had met the horrid dose he taken, The remembrance even now does nausea awaken. And fond father, To be witness of a child's torture, would rather Pay high price If money could purchase cathartic relief. We have it now! and great De Pratt's name Appears upon the scroll of Esculapian fame; For after long study what would suit, Has hit upon delicious fruit. To cure our ills. The Act to take effect May 1, 1887.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of some manufacturers. Especially is this the case with "Green's August Flower" and "Bosch's German Syrup," as the reduction of 30 cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The "August Flower" for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the "German Syrup" for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. nov3yl

MISCELLANEOUS

A Safeguard.

The fatal rapidity with which slight colds and coughs frequently develop into the gravest maladies of the throat and lungs, is a consideration which should impel every prudent person to keep at hand, as a household remedy, a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Nothing else gives such immediate relief and works so sure a cure in all affections of this class. That eminent physician, Prof. F. Sweetzer, of the Maine Medical School, Brunswick, Me., says:—

"Medical science has produced no other any-lyse expectorant so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is invaluable for diseases of the throat and lungs."

The same opinion is expressed by the well-known Dr. L. J. Addison, of Chicago, Ill., who says:—

"I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice of medicine, any preparation of so great value as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is more effective than anything else in relieving even the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

Is not a new claimant for popular confidence, but a medicine which is to-day saving the lives of the third generation who have come into being since it was first offered to the public.

There is not a household in which this invaluable remedy has once been introduced where its use has ever been abandoned, and there is not a person who has ever given it a proper trial for any throat or lung disease susceptible of cure, who has not been made well by it.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has, in numerous instances, cured obstinate cases of chronic Bronchitis, Laryngitis, and even acute Pneumonia, and has saved many patients in the earlier stages of Pulmonary Consumption. It is a medicine that only requires to be taken in small doses, is pleasant to the taste, and is needed in every house where there are children, as there is nothing so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of Croup and Whooping Cough.

These are all plain facts, which can be verified by anybody, and should be remembered by everybody.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

German Superstition.

As a rule, Germans are not gamblers; but they play sometimes, and when they do they like to win, so there are charms that secure their success. Here is one of them in rough outline. It is by far the worst and most blasphemous we have heard of in central Germany—a distinct piece of witchcraft, as it seems to us. To the words of the charm, distinctly noted down at the time, we regret that we cannot refer. The receipt without them stands thus: Catch a toad on Easter Sunday morning before sunrise; take a piece of soft wood—pine, etc., not beech or oak—a little larger than the toad, and then nail the wretched creature upon it in the form of a cross; hang it on an isolated pole toward the sun, thus gradually changing its position with the progress of the day; keep sprinkling it every now and then with water, for if it dies before the sun sets, your labor has been in vain. If, when the sun goes down, he is still partially alive, it is enough; take him to the nearest ant hill and bury him in it. On West Sunday dig him up. If no one has disturbed the hill, you will find the bones quite clean and white; put them in a little bag, hang it around your neck, and you will always win in games of chance. This charm is, of course, a violation of every law of humanity and religion; a giving of one's self to the devil even more formally than if one signed a contract with him in his own blood. If we could reproduce the words to be used at the different hours, it would be seen, imperfect as our account even then would be, what mysteries are caricatured and therefore violated. The man who employs such means, simply says: "I shut myself out of the fold of Christ; all I want is to win at cards." The charm was preserved by an old man who served in the wars of 1813 and 1815. Another man, a comrade of his, whom he carried, wounded, off a battle-field, had given him, when on the point of death, his "lucky bag," and told him how to make a new one. The veteran did not know from what district the man he had saved for a day or two had come; his knowledge of the charm itself was evidently inadequate; he protested that he had never tried it; but the bag and the bones were there, a little blue silk bag, worn and frayed, with a name worked upon it that looked like Ella—a girl's name, who was young some ninety years ago, we may suppose, and who put a ring, or, perhaps, a few gold pieces, her scanty earnings, into the bag, and gave it to her lover before he went away. It was full of toad's bones when we saw it.—[Saturday Review.]

The Beginning of the End.

The beginning of disease is a slight debility or disorder of some of the vital organs, the stomach, the liver or the bowels generally. There are dyspeptic symptoms, the liver is troublesome, the skin grows lumpy and unhealthy looking, there are pains in the right side or through the right side under blade. The climax is often an utter prostration of the physical energies, perhaps a fatal issue. But if the difficulty is met in time with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is always effective, a cure is secured, and it should be resorted to at an early stage, there will be no reason to apprehend those injurious subsequent effects upon the system often entailed by untimely cure of disease. Far better it is, also, to employ this safe remedial agent in fever and ague, and other malarial complaints, then quinine and other potent drugs, which, even when they do prove effective for a time, ruin the stomach and impair the general health.

An Opportunity to Secure a Home at Reno!

200 LOTS FOR SALE

The manager of the Lake estate, in order to enhance the value of the property of the estate, as well as assist in

Building Up the Town of Reno

Has determined to offer two hundred fine building lots for sale, some of which are situated in the central part of town, and are very desirable for business purposes. The proposed site for homes is immediately south of the Truckee river, and its elevation affords a magnificent view of the mountains in the distance, and the valley and town near at hand. A more perfect place for an elegant home could not be selected. The soil is good and an abundant supply of water will be sold with each lot. The health of the locality cannot be questioned, as its elevation assures a perfect system of sewerage. Gas mains will be laid through the streets free of cost, for the benefit of those desiring to use them. It is also intended by the owners to lay out a park on the south side of the Truckee river, covering 20 acres, in which the public may enjoy the pleasure of driving, fishing and boating.

The educational advantages of Reno are well known, and the business prospects of the town are assured beyond a doubt. Purchasers of these lots may feel confident that the best of terms will be offered, and they will be fairly dealt with. For further particulars, address
